

TAFT AND SHERMAN

This Is the Ticket the Republicans Present to Consideration of Electorate.

TAFT NAMED ON FIRST BALLOT

On Thursday the Culmination of Great Convention Came in Naming Secretary of War For President.

Congressman James S. Sherman Was Named For Second Place After Brief Session on Friday.

Incidents of One of the Most Interesting Conventions in the History of the Party.

For President of the United States, WILLIAM H. TAFT of Ohio.
For Vice President—JAMES S. SHERMAN of New York.

Taft on the first ballot; Taft by 702 votes; Taft by the unanimous choice of the convention.

Such is the record of the culminating day of the Republican national convention of 1908, effected amid scenes of tumultuous enthusiasm and after a nerve-racking continuous session lasting nearly eight hours.

A hush of expectancy hung over the assembly as the call proceeded. Hasty summaries showed that Taft was far in advance. When New York was reached the Taft column tallied 427. Ohio carried the Taft total to 551, or twenty more than enough to nominate. Still the call went on until the final result was announced by Chairman Lodge:

"For Theodore Roosevelt, 3 votes; for Joseph B. Foraker of Ohio, 16 votes; for Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana, 40 votes; for Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois, 61 votes; for Robert La Follette of Wisconsin, 25 votes; for Charles E. Hughes of New York, 63 votes; for Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania, 68 votes, and for William H. Taft of Ohio, 702 votes."

Following is the vote for the unsuccessful candidates:

Cannon—Illinois, 51; Michigan, 1; New Jersey, 3; New York, 3. Total, 58.

Fairbanks—Georgia, 1; Indiana, 30; Kentucky, 2; New Hampshire, 3; New Jersey, 2; South Carolina, 2. Total, 40.

Hughes—New York, 65; Virginia, 2. Total, 67.

Foraker—Georgia, 8; Ohio, 4; South Carolina, 2; Virginia, 1; District of Columbia, 1. Total, 16.

Knox—New Jersey, 4; Pennsylvania, 64. Total, 68.

La Follette—Wisconsin, 25.

Roosevelt—Pennsylvania, 3.

A great shout went up as Lodge concluded his announcement, and with one accord the cohorts of Cannon and Knox and Hughes and the others joined in a common tribute for the candidate of the party.

With Congressman James S. Sherman, of New York, chosen as vice-presidential candidate and running mate of Secretary Taft, the Republican national convention passed into history Friday.

The Formal Opening.

The Republican national quadrennial convention was called to order at noon Tuesday, Harry S. New of Indiana, chairman of the Republican national committee, wielding the gavel amid a scene of party splendor rarely, if ever, equalled. The vast auditorium of the Chicago Coliseum had been decorated as never before for the occasion, and its seating arrangements, systematized to the last square inch, were hardly adequate for the throng which filled the great structure, every man and every woman on the tip-toe of anticipation.

Chairman New's attitude in calling the convention to order was business personified. Captain New never attempts oratory, and his terse, crisp sentences announcing the object of the convention created an excellent impression. Bishop P. J. Muldoon of Chicago was then introduced and in eloquent terms made a plea for divine guidance in all the deliberations of the body thus assembled.

Following the formal presentation of the gavel to the chairman, the call for the convention was read by Elmer Dover of Ohio, secretary of the Republican national committee, and Senator Burrows of Michigan, temporary chairman, was introduced. The venerable senator, his shaggy beard much whiter than when he last attended a national convention, but with no diminution of vigor in person or voice, addressed his great audience on the record of the party during the four years since the last convention, concluding as follows:

"The work of this convention will soon be concluded. The platform will voice the dominant thought of the people, and the candidates nominated must stand upon it firm and erect. They must have the patriotism and sagacity of a Lincoln, the tenacity of a Grant, the wisdom and moderation of a McKinley, and the courage of a Roosevelt. With such a platform and such candidates the issue cannot be in doubt. The Republican party confidently submits its record to the approving judgment of the American people and, upon its renewed declaration of faith, invokes continuance of public favor."

After the transaction of certain formal matters of miscellaneous business the convention then adjourned until Wednesday the various committees being instructed to meet at their several places to complete the details of permanent organization.

THE SECOND DAY

Speech of Permanent Chairman Lodge the Distinctive Feature.

The selection of Senator Henry C. Lodge as permanent chairman of the Republican national convention was formally approved at a meeting of the committee on permanent organization and it was agreed that all of the other temporary officers of the convention named on the floor Tuesday should be made permanent. Therefore when the convention assembled on Wednesday to hear the reports of the various committees, Senator Lodge was in the chair, prepared to direct the deliberations of the great quadrennial gathering to its close.

Incidental to the convening of the delegates an inspiring scene was presented when the many marching clubs, which have gathered here from various parts of the country for the purpose of whooping things up for the several candidates, paraded through the hall.

The marching clubs assembled on Michigan avenue, at the foot of Adams street, opposite the Art Institute, marched down Michigan avenue to entrance "H" of the convention hall, into the hall, up the aisle, and out at entrance "D" on Wabash avenue, each vying with the other in efforts to create the most enthusiasm.

Probably the most important act of the day, and the one having greatest significance on the final result of the convention, was the adoption of the report of the committee on credentials, seating the Taft delegations practically in toto. If there had been any lingering doubt of the Taft strength it disappeared before this decisive action, which in effect placed upward of 700 delegates in the Taft column. Equally important, and even more remarkable, was the final acceptance of this result by the allies without the formality of a dissenting minority report, and without carrying the question to the floor of the convention for the open fight which had been long threatened. Instead of this all further opposition seemed to crumble. These who had promised trouble quietly accepted the inevitable.

After the convention had been called to order, the Rev. William O. Waters of Chicago delivered an earnest prayer for divine guidance in the affairs of the day. Senator Lodge, in accepting the chairmanship of the convention, made a brief speech thanking the delegates for the high honor they had conferred upon him, concluding with the following appeal to the nation's electorate:

"We ask for the confidence and support of the American people because we have met the problems of the day and have tried patiently to solve them. We appeal for votes and for the power they confer because we uphold the president's policies and shall continue to sustain them. We make our appeal with confidence because we have a well-defined policy and are not, like our opponents, fumbling in the dark to find some opinion on something."

"We believe in the maintenance of law and order and in the support of the courts in all their rights and dignity. We believe in equal rights for all men and are opposed to special privileges for any man, or any class of men, high or low, rich or poor. We, who established the gold standard, are pledged to the cause of sound finance. We stand for protection to American industry and American labor, and we will resist all the assaults of free trade under whatever name it comes disguised. We will see to the defense of the country. We mean to have a navy worthy of the American name. We seek peace and friendship with all the nations, but alliance with none. Yet we have no intention of being a 'hermit nation.' The great services of the president to the world's peace will be continued by the party which he has led. We are a party fit to rule and govern, to legislate and administer, and not a fortuitous collection of atoms whose only form of thought or motion is to oppose. Above all, we are true to our traditions and to our past. True now, as we were in the days of Lincoln."

"In this spirit we must prevail—by this sign we must conquer."

THE THIRD DAY

Adoption of Platform and Nominations Hold the Boards.

The final details of the national platform having been arranged by the platform committee, the convention was equipped Thursday morning to make its declaration of policy and proceed to the selection of candidates. The session opened at 10 o'clock instead of at noon, as heretofore, so that a full day might be had for the discussion of principles and men. The platform went before the convention early in the day and its adoption was followed by the speeches placing in nomination the candidates for president.

Several changes in phraseology were made in certain planks of the platform as presented to the committee. There were also some alterations of an essential character in some of the more important declarations, so that the platform as adopted is in some particulars, though in no essentials, different from the draft of the document which was prepared in Washington.

The presentation of the report on permanent organization was the signal for Senator Burrows to yield his place as temporary chairman and to escort to the platform the permanent chairman of the convention, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts. Mr. Lodge, trim and businesslike, looked as from a later generation than the white-haired patriarch chairman. His voice, too, had that resonant New England tramp which made it ring out to the farthest corners of the galleries, carrying metaphor and sarcasm which started the listeners to attention and applause.

"The president," exclaimed Mr. Lodge, "is the best abused and most popular man in the United States today."

This was the long-awaited signal. Instantly a shout broke from the galleries and was re-echoed from the floor, at first only a tempest of detached yells and cat-calls, and shouts of "Teddy," but gradually gathering force and volume, until it swelled to a whirlwind of sound and motion, as delegates and spectators rose en masse, mounding chairs, waving banners, hats, handkerchiefs, flags, newspapers, anything which could be seized upon to add turbulence to the scene. And the tumult the band struck up, but the crash of the brass and drums was completely lost in the babel of sound which welled from 14,000 throats.

Wonderful Demonstration.

For the first minute Senator Lodge stood waiting to proceed, occasionally raising his hand for silence, only to awaken a defiant yell twice louder than before. Five minutes passed and instead of abating the uproar was increasing. The sergeant-at-arms moved up a chair for the presiding officer and Senator Lodge sank back to await a lull in the storm. Five minutes—ten minutes—fifteen minutes.

There was no lull, no abatement. A hoarse roar had taken the place of the detached yells.

"Four, four, four years more," came in a deafening chorus from the full sweep of the gallery, as if preconcerted, each "four, four, four," exploding like the boom of heavy artillery.

Fifteen minutes—twenty minutes—twenty-five minutes.

Now delegations were joining in the outbreak. Some had mounted chairs—Texas, Kentucky, Tennessee—and were gesticulating madly. One delegate, far to the left, had torn off his coat and was whipping it wildly above his head. Texas and Kentucky appeared to be the center of the agitation on the floor. New York viewed the storm with calm and so did Ohio, except, strangely, one of the lonesome Foraker delegates, Judge Marcus Shoup, who, mounted on a chair, kept both arms in motion with a waving flag and a newspaper and his voice joining in the general pandemonium.

Thirty minutes—thirty-five minutes—forty minutes—forty-five minutes.

A full three-quarters of an hour had passed in this bewildering confusion of sight and sound. For a time some fear was felt by some that a stampede was imminent. But the political generals were glad to give the pent-up enthusiasm of the multitude this outlet of expression, and at no time was there the slightest apprehension among them that the well-vised plans would miscarry by some overpowering movement. Frank H. Hitchcock, the Taft manager, moved about the floor, smiling as the tumult was at its height. "The cheers for Roosevelt today will be for Taft tomorrow," said he with confidence.

PARTY PLATFORM

Resolutions Upon Which Republicans Base Their Claim For the Suffrages of the People.

ENUNCIATION OF PRINCIPLES

Leading All in This Declaration of Party Determination Is an Extraordinary Bit of Praise For the President of the United States.

The platform adopted by the Republican national convention at Chicago is in part as follows:

Once more the Republican party, in national convention assembled, submits its cause to the people. This great historic organization that destroyed slavery, preserved the Union, restored credit, expanded the national domain, established a sound financial system, developed the industries and resources of the country and gave to the nation her post of honor in the councils of the world, now meets the new problems of government with the same courage and capacity with which it solved the old.

Praise for Roosevelt.

In this, the greatest era of American advancement, the Republican party reached its highest service under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt. His administration is an epoch in American history. In no other period since national sovereignty was won under Washington or preserved under Lincoln has there been such mighty progress in these ideals of government which make for justice, equality and fair dealing among men. The highest aspirations of the American people have found a voice. Their most exalted servant has come to represent, not political sovereignty alone, but the best aims and worthiest purposes of all his countrymen.

American manhood and womanhood have been lifted to a nobler sense of duty and obligation. Conscience and courage in public station and highest standards of right and wrong in private life have become the cardinal principles of political faith; capital and labor have been brought into closer relations of confidence and independence, the abuse of wealth, the tyranny of power and all the evils of privilege and favoritism have been put to scorn by the simple, manly virtues of justice and fair play.

The great accomplishments of President Roosevelt have been, first and foremost, a brave and impartial enforcement of the law, the prosecution of illegal trusts and monopolies, the exposure and punishment of evil-doers in the public service; the more effective regulation of the rates and service of the great transportation lines; the complete overthrow of preference, rebates and discriminations; the arbitration of labor disputes; the amelioration of the condition of wage workers everywhere; the conservation of the natural resources of the country; the forward step in the improvement of the inland waterways, and always the earnest support and defense of every wholesome safeguard which has made more secure the guarantees of life, liberty and prosperity.

These are the achievements that will make for Theodore Roosevelt his place in history. But more than all else, the great things he has done will be an inspiration to those who have yet greater things to do. We declare our unflinching adherence to the policies thus inaugurated and pledge their continuance under a Republican administration of the government.

Equal Opportunity for All.

With gratitude for God's bounty, with pride in the splendid productivity of the past, and with confidence in the prosperity of the future, the Republican party declares for the principle that in the development and enjoyment of wealth so great and blessings so benign there shall be equal opportunity for all.

Nothing so clearly demonstrates the sound basis upon which our commercial, industrial and agricultural interests are founded and the necessity for promoting their continued welfare through the operation of Republican policies as the recent safe passage of the American people through a financial disturbance which, if appearing in the midst of Democratic rule, or the menace of it, might have equalled the familiar Democratic panics of the past.

The many wise and progressive measures adopted by recent sessions of congress have demonstrated the patriotic resolve of Republican leadership in the legislative department to keep step in the forward march toward better government. Only the obstruction and filibustering of a Democratic minority in the last house of congress prevented the enactment of a number of measures of great public benefit, the consideration of which can only be entrusted to another Republican majority. But many wholesome and progressive laws were enacted, and we especially commend the passage of the emergency currency bill, the appointment of the national monetary commission, the employers' and government liability laws, the measures for the greater efficiency of the army and navy, the widows' pension bill, the model child labor law for the District of Columbia, designed for emulation by the states; the new statutes for the safety of railroad engineers and firemen, and many acts conserving the public welfare.

Tariff Revision at Special Session.

The Republican party declares unequivocally for a revision of the tariff by a special session of congress immediately following the inauguration of the next president, and commends the steps already taken to this end in the work assigned to the appropriate committees of the two houses, which are now investigating the operations and effect of existing schedules.

In all tariff legislation the true principle of protection is best maintained by the imposition of such duties as will equal the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, together with a reasonable profit to American industries, and the benefits that follow are best secured by the establishment of maximum and minimum rates to be administered by the president, under limitations fixed in the law, the maximum to be available to meet discriminations by foreign countries against American goods entering their markets, and the minimum to represent the normal measure of protection at home, the aim and purpose of the Republican policy being not only to preserve, without excesses, duties, that security against foreign competition to which American manufacturers, farmers and producers are entitled, but also to maintain the high standard of living of the wage-earners of this country, who are the most direct beneficiaries of the protective system.

Currency and Banking.

We approve the emergency measures adopted by the government during the recent financial disturbance, and especially commend the passage by the last session of congress of the temporary enactment designed to protect the country from a repetition such stringency until there can be established a permanent currency system that will avoid all emergencies. The Republican party is committed to the development of such a permanent system, responding to our greater needs and in line in all respects with the most progressive nations of the world and the appointment of a monetary commission by the present congress, which will impartially investigate all proposed methods, insure the early realization of this purpose. In line with the purpose here declared to secure by every wise means greater safety and stability in the banking and currency system, we favor the establishment of a postal savings bank for the people, upon principles embodied in the measure now pending in congress and set for vote on December 14 next.

Anti-Trust Legislation.

The Republican party passed the Sherman anti-trust law over Democratic opposition and enforced it after Democratic rejection. It has been a wholesome instrument for good in the hands of a wise and fearless administration. But experience has shown that its effectiveness can be strengthened and its real object better obtained by such amendments as will give to the federal government greater supervision and control over and secure greater publicity in the management of that class of interstate corporations having power and opportunity to effect monopolies and at the same time will not interfere with the operation of such associations among business men, farmers and wage earners as result in a positive benefit to the public.

Railroad Rate Law.

We approve the enactment of the railroad rate law and the vigorous enforcement by the present administration of the statutes against rebates and discriminations, as the result of which the advantages formerly possessed by the large shippers over the small shippers have substantially disappeared.

Laws in Behalf of Labor.

The enactment in constitutional form by the present session of congress of the employers' liability law; the passage and enforcement of the safety appliance statutes, as well as the additional protection secured for engineers and firemen; the reduction in the hours of laborers, trainmen and railroad telegraphers; the successful exercise of the powers of mediation and arbitration between interstate railroads and their employees, and the law making a beginning in the policy of compensation for injured employees of the government are among the most commendable accomplishments of the present administration.

The Republican party will uphold at all times the authority and integrity of the courts, state and federal, and will ever insist that their powers to enforce their process and to protect life, liberty and property shall be preserved inviolate. We believe, however, that the rules of procedure in the federal courts with respect to the Million Men for U. S. Army.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

Given by the Children of the St. Bernard Parochial School was Grand Success.

A large audience was out Tuesday evening to witness the entertainment at Temple Theatre given by the children of the St. Bernard Parochial school for the benefit of the school and church of the Immaculate Conception.

From the beginning, "Away to the Fields," by opening chorus, the entertainment was indeed very interesting, and proved that the children had been well drilled in the various parts.

"Old Dog Tray" (song) by little boys, in which a handsome shepherd dog was used in the illustration of "Old Dog Tray," was one of the most interesting parts on the program.

The dialogue by Morton Victory, John Hanna, E. Newbolt and A. Newbolt was well carried out and brought forth much applause.

The "Double Throne" with a strong cast of characters was well rendered, and it indeed is quite remarkable how such young people can handle their parts so well, many of the characters acting far better than older people could have done.

The most laughable part on the program was the "pillow fight," in which were a large number of little boys. This part of the program brought forth much applause. The little boys seemed to, and no doubt did, enjoy this as much as the audience.

It would consume a great deal of space to attempt to bring out all the good parts on the program, as each piece was interesting, as well as amusing.

The drama in two acts, entitled "Dolores, or Through the Fires of Sorrow," was acted well, and much praise should be given those who took such care and pains to drill them.

The house was crowded, and a nice sum was realized, so no doubt the promoters feel well pleased over this successful entertainment.

Miss Elizabeth Stone entertained quite a number of her friends at her home on Railroad street Tuesday from four till six, in honor of her fifteenth anniversary. Several nice games were played after which refreshments were served, they left expressing an enjoyable time, and wishing Miss Elizabeth many more such happy birthdays.

We, the undersigned dry goods merchants of Earlington, Ky., have agreed to close our stores at 7:30 p. m., beginning July 1, except Saturdays nights and nights following St. Bernard and railroad pay days. This we believe will work no hard ship on our patrons and at the same time give many of these behind the counter an opportunity to enjoy a few hours of much needed recreation and rest. Controversy.

SHERMAN HAS RESTLESS DAY

VICE PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE MAY ESCAPE KNIFE, PHYSICIANS BELIEVE.

DICTATES TELEGRAM TO TAFT

Is Removed from Home of Former Governor Herrick to Hospital. Extreme Heat Adds to Patient's Discomfort.

Cleveland, June 24.—At 8:30 this morning Mr. Sherman's temperature was 101 3-5, pulse 92, respiration 28. He was reported as resting quietly.

Cleveland, June 24.—Representative James Schoolcraft Sherman, Republican candidate for vice-president, removed early Tuesday from the home of former Gov. Herrick to lake-side hospital, a sufferer from gallstones, after a somewhat restless day, is reported in an official bulletin as holding his own. If the patient's condition continues to improve, the bulletin said, it is not likely that an operation for the removal of the gallstones will be necessary. The physicians state that Mr. Sherman's well-known abstemious habits have given him much bodily strength to resist the ravages of the diseases.

The following telegram was dictated by Mr. Sherman to his secretary late Tuesday night in answer to a message of sympathy from the presidential nominee, William H. Taft: "Lakeside Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio, June 23.

"Hon. William H. Taft, New Haven, Conn.

My Dear Mr. Taft—My illness is not of a critical nature, and the doctors Tuesday afternoon advised me that I can probably go home in three days. I thank you ever so much indeed for your cordial telegram. I expect to see you in Washington on Wednesday of next week.

(Signed) "J. S. SHERMAN."

The unfavorable symptom in the case is the continued high temperature. In the 9 o'clock bulletin given out Tuesday night it was given at 102, with pulse normal. At that hour Mr. Sherman was restless.

The extreme heat of the day running into the nineties did not add much to the comfort of the patient.

WHITE SLAVE TEST CASES.

Federal Officials May Deport Hundreds of Women from U. S.

Chicago, June 24.—Test cases which may result in the deportation of hundreds of women imported into the United States for immoral purposes were started by federal officials here Tuesday night, when a second raid was made on a resort at 2021 Dearborn street, and three of the inmates were arrested. The place is one of the establishments which Alphonse and Eva Dufour are alleged to have operated in the interest of a syndicate said to have been formed for the purpose of bringing women to this country from France.

Dufour and his wife are now in custody. United States Assistant District Attorney, Sims, said that the women are subject to deportation in connection with a law recently put in force. The deportation warrants were issued by Secretary Strauss of the department of commerce and labor, at Washington.

MINE BURNING NINETEEN YEARS.

Blaze Started in Montana Mines by Miner's Candle in 1899.

Butte, Montana, June 24.—General Manager Gillette of the Anaconda Copper Co. properties Tuesday issued an official statement concerning the fires in the Anaconda & St. Lawrence mines, misleading statements concerning which sent out of this city Monday night. Mr. Gillette says that the blaze, which has been raging continuously since 1899, is no worse than it has been several times before and that there is nothing alarming in the situation.

The fire is supposed to have been started from a miner's candle. For 19 years it has fed on the timbers of that part to which it has been confined, spreading slowly. The sulphur in the ore also lends fuel to the smoldering flames.

Tornado Misses Towns.

Beaver City, Neb., June 24.—A storm of tornado force prevailed in the Beaver valley Monday night. No towns were struck, but considerable damage was done in the farming districts. Near Hollinger five barns were demolished, timbers being carried over the farms. The home of T. F. Garrett was partly wrecked, but the occupants escaped injury.

President Oversees Haymaking.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 24.—The sun shone at Oyster Bay and the president made hay. During the mowing, Mr. Roosevelt was content to supervise the work, but Wednesday morning, when the almighty eagle that covers the hillside in front of the presidential home has ripened, the chief executive will take a hand in the work.

COW AND VIOLIN ON TOMBSTONE.

Monument with Odd Inscription at Plainfield, Conn.

Boston.—It is no uncommon occurrence for persons to mark the burial places of their pet dogs and favorite cats with monuments, but the town of Plainfield, Conn., has the somewhat peculiar honor of being the only place so far as known where a monument is to be seen in a cemetery telling the virtues of a favorite cow.

The man who was responsible for this curious burial shaft was Gurdon Cady, who was widely known 50 years ago throughout central Connecticut.

The monument is pointed out to visitors as one of the sights in Evergreen cemetery, in Plainfield. On one side of the shaft are these words:

"Rosa, my first Jersey cow. Record 2 lbs. 15 oz. butter from 13 quarts, 1 day milk."

On the opposite side is this inscription:

"All ready, Mr. Cady—At rest," with a violin and bow carved between the words.

The man whose body lies beneath this somewhat unusual tombstone was widely known as a prompter and musician. His reputation as a fiddler assured the success of any dance, for which he was engaged. He had a large frame, and was as bighearted as he was big corporeally. He was accustomed to sing while he played, and chanted old-fashioned square dances in perfect tune.

Besides his love for music, Mr. Cady took much interest in his cows, of which he had a fine herd of Jerseys. Then the jersey cow was not so well known as now. Mr. Cady used to take his herd to all the cattle shows in his vicinity, and won a large collection of blue ribbons.

Before he died he made arrangements to have his favorite cow and his beloved violin carved on his tombstone.

Pitiable.

"Dreadful," moaned the opera singer, who had been robbed of $1,000, "why it takes me nearly ten minutes of hard work to earn that much."

TO RESTORE TOMBS

CEMETERY IN NEW YORK CITY WILL BECOME GARDEN SPOT.

Plot of Gorman Marble Burial Corporation an interesting bit of ancient town—surrounded by Stores and Tenements.

New York.—To lift one of God's secrets out of a condition that does not harmonize with modern conceptions of health, beauty and general fitness is the plan of certain members of the New York Marble Cemetery corporation, the association which owns the old burying ground over on Second avenue. At a no inconsiderable cost they propose to transform the cemetery into what will resemble far more a beautiful garden than a place of the dead, a scheme that is of interest not only to those who have personal associations with the cemetery, but to the general public, to whom restful and verdant spaces in the midst of the toll and traffic of the city are of infinite value.

The cemetery, which at present presents an aspect of quaintness and order, is an especially interesting bit of ancient New York, preserved amid the downfall and destruction of more conspicuous relics of the city's youth. For within it rest the remains of numbers prominently connected with her development, socially and commercially.

The plot lies in the middle of the block formed by the intersection of Second and Third streets with Second avenue and the Bowery, and is entered by an iron gateway which, breaking the monotonous block-front of stores and tenements on Second avenue, opens upon a passage, which in turn leads to the gateway in the eastern wall of the cemetery itself. Once inside the latter entrance, the visitor is astonished to find an open space of 137 feet by 85 feet in extent, surrounded by high walls and giving little evidence of the purpose for which it is used. A grass plot intersected by three straight paths runs the full length of the inclosure. Upon the western wall is a large tablet on which are engraved the names of vault owners, while the eastern wall bears the name of the cemetery. Along the side walls smaller tablets give the names of vault owners opposite their respective vaults. But there

If one feels dull and spiritless, in the spring or early summer, they call it Spring fever—usually it is the after effect of our winter habits. The nerves are mostly at fault. Tired, worn out nerves leave us languid, listless, and without spirit or ambition. A few doses of Dr. Sheep's Restorative will absolutely and quickly change all of these depressing symptoms. The restorative of course won't bring you back to full health in a day or two, but it will do enough in 48 hours to satisfy you that the remedy is reaching that "ired spot." Druggists everywhere are advising its use as a splendid and prompt general tonic. It gives more vim and more spirit to the apathetic than any other known nerve or constitutional tonic. It sharpens a failing appetite, aids digestion, frees sluggish liver and kidneys, and brings new life, strength and ambition. Test it a few days and be convinced.

GROVER CLEVELAND

Dies Suddenly After a Lingerin Illness at His Home in New Jersey.

Princeton, N. J., June 24.—Grover Cleveland, former President of the United States, died suddenly at his home at Westland, here at 8:40 o'clock this morning. Death was due to heart failure, complicated with other diseases. The passing away of Mr. Cleveland was not immediately announced, but was delayed until an official statement had been prepared by physicians who had been attending him in the various periods of his illness.

The following statement, signed by Drs. Jos. D. Bryant, George R. Lockwood and J. M. Carnochan, was given out:

"Mr. Cleveland for many years had suffered from repeated attacks of gastro intestinal origin. Also he had long standing organic diseases of heart and kidneys. Heart failure, complicated with pulmonary thrombosis and oedema were the immediate causes of his death."

While Mr. Cleveland had been who came here from New York only yesterday afternoon, remained at the Cleveland home all night, as was the custom when they visited Princeton. While Mrs. Cleveland did not wish to alarm her friends last night by telling them that her distinguished husband was again quite ill, and in fact assured them that he was doing well, it became known today that he took a slight turn for the worse during the afternoon. There was nothing alarming in his condition, it was thought, by the physicians, and the former President passed a fairly good night, notwithstanding the oppressive heat.

When Drs. Bryant and Lockwood visited their patient this morning, they found him, "indisposed" as one of them termed it. Dr. Carnochan, who lives in Princeton, was asked to step over to the house. This was shortly before eight o'clock. Shortly after that hour Mr. Cleveland seemed to fall. The physicians recognized instantly the symptoms. Immediate arrangements were made to combat the attack.

With every resource at hand the physicians worked over their patient. Finally he lapsed into unconsciousness and the end came at 8:40 o'clock.

It is believed that the terrific heat of the last few days contributed in a great degree to the sudden death of Mr. Cleveland.

Career of Cleveland in a Nutshell.

Born March 18, 1837, at Caldwell, Essex county, New Jersey. Removed to Buffalo, N. Y., in 1855.

Became a law clerk, and was admitted to the bar in 1859.

Assistant District Attorney, Erie county, 1863-66.

Sheriff of Erie county, 1870-72.

Mayor of Buffalo in 1881, when his veto of extravagant appropriations led to his nomination for Governor.

Governor of the State of New York, 1882.

Elected President of the United States in 1884 over James G. Blaine.

Defeated for re-election in 1888 by Benjamin Harrison.

Elected President again in 1892 over President Harrison.

Retired as President March 4, 1897, and became a resident of Princeton.

Received degree of LL. D. at Princeton in 1897.

Mr. Cleveland married June 2, 1886, at the White House, Miss Frances Folsom. In the campaign of 1896 he supported the silver plank in the Democratic platform. In the 1904 campaign he made some speeches in support of Alton B. Parker.

EX-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND.

seriously ill from time to time, the announcement of his death came like a thunderbolt to those who had been watching his illness.

Last night there was a slight flurry among the friends of the Clevelands that something was seriously wrong with the ex-President. This was occasioned by a visit of Dr. Bryant, of New York, Mr. Cleveland's physician for many years. Mrs. Cleveland later in the evening discussing Dr. Bryant's visit said that there was no occasion for alarm and that Mr. Cleveland was getting along nicely.

This reassurance totally unprepared their friends for the announcement of his death.

Mrs. Cleveland was at home when her distinguished husband passed away.

The children are at the Cleveland summer home at Tamworth, N. H., in charge of Mrs. Parline, Mrs. Cleveland's mother.

The Clevelands came here from Lakewood, where the former President lay sick for many weeks, on June 1, and intended to go to their summer home as soon as Mr. Cleveland had gained sufficient strength to travel.

The former President died in bed in the second story front room. Those at the bedside when the end came were Mrs. Cleveland and the three physicians. The only other persons in the house at the time were a number of servants.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illustrated that statement and given it meaning over-brooding with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad," or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist does not happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by enclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 603 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. TAFT HAS A CLOSE CALL

PROMPT ACTION OF ENGINEER SAVES TRAIN.

PISTON ROD BROKE SHORT OFF

Unmanageable Red Creaks Cylinder of Engine—Emergency Brakes Applied.

Dennison, O., June 22.—Secretary Taft had a narrow escape Sunday night from being involved in a serious wreck on the Pennsylvania Ayer, which was carrying him east. Prompt action of the towermen in a signal station a third of a mile east of Coshocton and of the engineer of the flyer alone averted what might have been a dreadful accident. As the train was speeding along at the rate of 50 miles an hour, the piston rod on the left side of the locomotive broke short off. Almost instantly the cylinder of the engine was creaked by the unmanageable rod. The train was just approaching a signal tower east of Coshocton. The operator saw that something serious was wrong and he threw down a signal to stop the train. The engineer applied the emergency brakes and the train of six cars came to a stop on a sharp curve.

The accident occurred at 8:30 o'clock as many of the passengers on the train were at dinner in the dining car. Few of them realized how narrow their escape had been from an awful accident.

Secretary Taft and National Committeeman Kellogg entered the dining car and sat down to dinner after the accident occurred without thought of anything serious in connection with the stopping and delay of the train. The secretary made no comment on the incident when informed of it. The engineer of the locomotive explained that it was merely good luck that averted a bad accident.

"If the piston rod after it broke had gone under the train," said he, "we would have gone into the ditch, as we were running 50 miles an hour and the derailment would have been a serious matter. Fortunately, the broken rod landed six or eight inches outside of the left rail. That saved us."

Newton, Iowa, June 21.—While trying to kidnap his 5-year-old daughter from his wife, from whom he was separated, Frank Parker of Denver, formerly of Grinnell, Iowa, was shot and killed near Kellogg, Iowa, Friday by George Young, a former business partner.

Parker died several hours after the shooting. Young was arrested at the scene of the crime, brought here and lodged in jail.

New York, June 21.—Two more deaths in the post hospital at Fort Wadsworth Friday brought the casualties of the mimic war to three. The dead are: John Welsh, George Harvey and James McDowell, all members of the Ninth regiment, New York national guard. The explosion and death of the volunteer artillerymen did not halt the war game. Two futile attempts were made by the hypothetical battleship fleet to pass the batteries.

Eugene, Ore., June 21.—With the purpose of frightening unwelcome arrivals away from the town, a dynamite bomb was exploded before daylight Thursday morning under the front porch of a small dwelling occupied by C. FATHER OF OIL KING

NEW TALK OF DUAL LIFE OF ROCKEFELLER PERE.

Chicagoan, with Dr. William Livingston for Twelve Years, Says Man Admitted He Was Parent of Famous John D.

New York.—Many additional facts about the dual life led by Dr. William Avery Rockefeller, father of John D. Rockefeller, are supplied by Dr. Charles H. Johnston, his assistant and business partner for 12 years. In those years Dr. Rockefeller went under the name of Dr. William Livingston, but to his partner, Dr. Johnston, so the latter declares, he revealed the secret of his life—that he was Rockefeller and that John D. Rockefeller was his son.

Dr. Johnston is president of the College of Medicine and Surgery in Chicago. He explains:

"It was in 1874 that I paid him $1,000 and became his student and assistant. He was living then in Freeport, Ill., as Dr. William Livingston, and he never posed under any other name thereafter. His wife, Mrs. Margaret Allen Livingston, living yet in Freeport, was one of the sweetest women I ever knew. I did not know until years afterward that he had two wives, one the mother of John D. Rockefeller. She lives in Cleveland, O.

"Dr. Livingston and I traveled over all the west, through Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa, Nebraska, and Kansas. It is not true that he sold medicines in the street. He had a fine team of horses, the best that money could buy, and a fine carriage in which we drove from town to town. He would have a string of eight or ten towns at once. He would drive into a town, scatter handbills, in which the great Dr. Livingston asserted that he could cure all diseases, and we would have a suite of rooms at the best hotel, and to the doctor there would come the sick and the halt and the lame. In all cases of common ailments he could detect the cause almost at a glance.

"He made a great deal of money. He often took in $200 in a day, and if he took only $100 he thought it a poor day's business.

"I knew from the first that there was some deep mystery in his life, but it was several years before I suspected that he was Rockefeller, and it was several years more before he acknowledged to me that his name was William A. Rockefeller and that John D. Rockefeller was his son.

"In all the years I was with him the old man went twice a year to Cleveland and stayed a week or two. He told me he went there to look after his money invested with John D. Rockefeller, and he would tell me wonderful stories of John D.'s shrewdness and great wealth."

Dr. Johnston showed several letters, postmarked Cleveland, O., and signed William Livingston, M. D.

"I first learned positively that Dr. Livingston was Dr. Rockefeller when he was injured on a ranch in North Dakota and thought he was going to die. He and I went to North Dakota together in 1881, and took up adjoining homestead claims where the town of Park River is. We were building a shed for a cattle shelter and in lifting a heavy log he strained himself. He was an old man then, and he thought he had ruptured an intestine. The pain was great and he thought he was dying. I asked him if I should send for his wife, Mrs. Livingston, if he should die, and he said: 'No; notify John D. Rockefeller, but be very careful and get no one else know it.'"

"When he got well I told him I knew he was John D. Rockefeller's father. At first he denied it and then he said it was true. He told me that the reason he kept it secret was that he found it necessary in his younger days to assume a name because he was practicing medicine without license. He might be arrested any time and he did not wish to disgrace the name of Rockefeller because of his children. He stuck to the name later, he said, because it was then too late honorably to take his right name."

Welfare of Agriculture.

Among those whose welfare is a trial to the welfare of the whole country is that of the farmer. The prosperity of the whole country rests primarily upon the prosperity of agriculture. The Republican party during the last twelve years has accomplished extraordinary work in bringing the resources of the national government to the aid of the farmer.

The platform also urges the continued extension of the rural mail service, reaffirms belief in the civil service system; declares for forest conservation and irrigation; asks for generous provisions for pensioners; praises the work being done in the canal zone, and concludes by asking that the party be continued in power.

LAUGHED LIKE A BOY

It Was Thus That Mr. Taft Received the Great News.

Washington, June 19.—Secretary Taft's resignation as a cabinet officer was received by President Roosevelt today. It will take effect on July 1.

Washington, June 19.—"Words do not find themselves at this time. Do not deny that I am very happy."

This was the response of Secretary William H. Taft to a request for an expression of his views on his nomination for the presidency. The sentences did not come easily. Throughout the afternoon preceding the announcement of his nomination the secretary had been laboring under suppressed nervous tension. The atmosphere of his office was electric with excitement. Notwithstanding the great personal interest which he had in the proceedings at Chicago, a thousand miles away. Secretary Taft did not permit politics to interfere for a moment with his transaction of official business as secretary of war. In the intermissions of the receipt of bulletins from the convention the secretary disposed of several important departmental questions and when his nomination for the presidency was announced his desk practically was cleared of important official business.

Throughout the afternoon the private office of Secretary Taft and the office of his private secretary were surrounded with members of his family, intimate personal and official friends and newspaper men. When over the overflowing wire came the dash "Taft is nominated," Mrs. Taft rose from her seat and turned to her husband, who was standing at her right. It was an eloquent handshake they gave each other. Mrs. Taft was bubbling over with happiness. All evidence of the serious strain which had been in her face during the entire afternoon had disappeared. The secretary himself laughed with the joy of a boy. Around the secretary and Mrs. Taft their friends crowded to offer their congratulations. It was a happy scene—the realization of months of labor and tribulation.

Republican Vice Presidential Nominee III At Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., June 23.—The illness of Congressman James S. Sherman, Republican nominee for Vice President, who has been ill here at the residence of ex-Gov. Myron T. Herrick since Sunday, assumed a serious phase early this morning, when the patient suffered a severe chill.

Mr. Sherman's illness, which at first was diagnosed as a bilious attack, now turns out to have been caused by gall stones. On the advice of Drs. Allen and Carter, who were called to attend the patient, he was removed to Lakeside Hospital. An operation may later be performed, but this step has not been fully decided upon.

Overwhelmed With Replies.

Washington, June 22.—The Republican Congressional Committee has been overwhelmed with replies to its offer to pay $150 for the best article, not exceeding 1,000 words on the question, "Why the Republican party should be successful next November." About 500 replies have already been received. The offer does not close until after the Democratic convention, or July 15. It is said at the headquarters here that a very large number of these replies have come from the South.

SEE KENTUCKY.

Owensboro Messenger.

Kentucky, as a state, is one hundred and sixteen years old. It was in June, 1792, that the first constitution and all the machinery of state government was put in operation. Often since that date different features of the state have been eulogized and more recently some features have been deprecated. The faults are due to faulty men and not to the Omnipotent Creator. As a masterpiece of nature or of the Almighty's handiwork no state in the union equals Kentucky. There are hills and dales and groves and dells and mountains, treed and rockribbed and caverned, such as no state in the union can claim. Of rivers there is rich abundance and not one without its abounding rare scenery and places of recreation, amusement and instruction.

For 700 miles the shores of Kentucky are laved by the beautiful Ohio. The river touches three great states on the north, but at every point that it touches any of them, there is Kentucky claiming jurisdiction to low water mark on the other side. But, besides the majestic Ohio there are the seven rivers that rise near the same point in eastern Kentucky and coursing across the state give her people health and food and general commercial and scenic advantages.

Even the great Mammoth cave, one of the seven wonders of the new world, is comparatively unknown to Kentuckians, and yet it may be reached by one of the most attractive river routes—down the Ohio and up Green river—that can be found anywhere, or by rail without much delay, or by rail and river. Along the Ohio are stretches of hill, cliff, forest and urban scenery that is little if any, short of the famed Hudson. Every one of the "seven rivers" of the state has its attractions, historical and natural, and it is almost a crime for Kentuckians to remain ignorant of them. Let those who are bent on vacations get a good map of the beautiful state and then secure a copy of Collins' history of Kentucky and they will be prepared to spend their vacation most profitably and pleasantly and patriotically right here in dear old Kentucky.

Motherhead Hall.

On last Thursday morning at Madisonville, Mr. Joe Mothershead one of our popular young men of this city was married to Miss Bortie Hall one of Madisonville's most popular young ladies. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hall. They left for an extended bride tour through the West at 12 o'clock after which they will reside in the city. Mr. Mothershead is one of the office force of the St. Bernard, a man of sterling character and well liked by all who know him. The bride, Miss Hall, has been in the employ of the Telephone Co., here and other places and is a most charming young lady, who has a host of friends. The wedding was unique. Those from Harrison who attended were a few of the groom's friends and

UNVEILS MONUMENTS.

Woodmen of the World From Owensboro, Madisonville and Other Towns Attend.

Henderson Ky., June 22.—Nearly 3,000 people attended the memorial services of the Woodmen of the World here Sunday afternoon and it was one of the largest gatherings of the kind ever held in this city. Monuments for the late John Lawrey and Henry Dixon were unveiled and D. H. Kinchelo delivered an oration on fraternalism. The crowd was so large that nearly half the people present could not hear the speaker.

Evansville was represented by four or five hundred Woodmen and large delegations were here from Owensboro, Morganfield, Sebree, Robards, Spottsville, Authoston, Corydon, Poole, Cairo and score of other small towns. Madisonville sent a large number and the uniform rank of the camp at that place conducted the ritual services.

The Evansville, Owensboro and Madisonville camps were accompanied by brass bands.

Longest Day.

Last Sunday was the longest day of the year and the sun celebrated what is called the summer solstice. This is the date when the sun's rays fall perpendicular at the point farthest north on the earth's surface. This limit marks what is known as the tropic of cancer. On December 22 annually the sun's rays fall perpendicularly on the tropic of Capricorn, which divides two zones of the southern hemisphere. For a few weeks the days will be shortened but little, as the sun seems to recede to the south; but after that or about August 15 they will begin to shorten quite rapidly.

Too Bad.

Quite a bad accident happened to two of our society ladies Monday night. Their little brother was burning a match "to see if his girl loved him" and set fire to the dresser, and to put it out, threw a pitcher of water on the flames, thereby upsetting the perfume bottle, breaking the curling iron, getting all the powder wet, and ruining two boxes of paint. The girls had to stay at home that night as a result.

Eclipse of Sun.

Next Sunday, June 28th there will be an annular eclipse of the sun, visible throughout the United States. It will go into eclipse at 10:30, and last two hours.

Paper Front Hill.

New York, June 22.—Judge Hough in the federal court fined 24 manufacturers of Manila and fiber paper $2,000 each on a plea of guilty of violating the anti-trust law.

Congratulations From the Widows of Harrison and Garfield.

Washington June 22.—A pathetic chord was touched today when in the mail for Secretary Taft were two letters congratulating him, one from Mrs. Harrison and one from Mrs. Garfield.

We are pleased to hear of the promotion of Agent Wooten, of Hanson, who will about the first of July, go to Illinois and take charge of a good position as agent at a good salary. Just keep the eye on that boy and see if he don't keep climbing higher and higher.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES.

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Earlington women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders. Here's proof of it in a Earlington Woman's word:

Mrs. H. C. Smith, living in Earlington, Ky., says: "I was afflicted with Kidney trouble for years. I had severe pains in the small of my back and whenever I stooped or lifted anything they were particularly acute. My back ached at night and when I arose in the morning it was very lame. I was easily tired, felt languid and was frequently troubled with nervous spells. Headaches often bothered me, and dizzy spells also added to my afflictions. I knew my kidneys were disordered as the secretions contained a sediment, and were much to frequent in action. My rest was disturbed greatly at night on this account. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box and received relief from the first. I shall recommend them at every opportunity."

Successful Men Not Fussy.

Peace and happiness cannot exist in the vicinity of an individual who has a mania for setting everybody right. He is generally unfitted for office, being one of the exasperating people who are continually saying what they would do while really doing nothing at all. It is usually the sluggish or idler, who stands about and watches others work, who can suggest a dozen ways in which they can do better.

Baseball Players and Foot Racers!

Therefore, I highly recommend Snow Liniment to all who are troubled with sprains, bruises or rheumatism. 25c, 50c, and $1.00.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. With that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the constitutional. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerves, all tissue, and all blood ailments. The "Night Cure", as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well the "Night Cure".

Alum for Household Use.

Alum should never be absent from any household. It has a very good effect if applied to bleeding wounds, as it checks the loss of blood. Bottled in milk in small quantities it is good for toothache. It must be held in the mouth, not swallowed. For bleeding of the month or tongue, a wash in cold water in which alum has been dissolved is very effective.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence Co., N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick-dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure." John X. Taylor

Inundation of the Nile.

The valley of the Nile is inundated regularly every year from the 15th of June to the 17th of September. When the river subsides it leaves a rich deposit of soil for six miles on each side of the stream. Sometimes the overflow is excessive, but if the inundation falls short failure of crops results. In 1829 the flood was so great as to cause the loss of 30,000 lives and the destruction of much property.

CLEAR THE COMPLEXION OVER NIGHT

Eczema, Pimples, Rashes, Blisters, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Since the discovery of "A. J. M." PRESCRIPTION, the new skin remedy, it has, in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the dispensers who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. Friendly Discussions Avail.

It would be an important step towards the reconciliation of political opponents if they would clearly signify on what points they agree, and what points they differ. To this end, friendly discussions avail more, far more, than calumnious insinuations, furious invectives, the acerbities of partisan rivalry, the machinations of intrigue and malevolence.—Comte de Mirabeau.

COLORED COLUMN

MR. S. R. DRIVER EDITOR

A political plane is hanging over us editors head they say.

One Shelton, of Basket Station, Henderson county, is visiting his brother, George Shelton.

Mr. Frank Buckner, of Elmo, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Lizzie Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Fort will visit friends and relatives in St. Louis and Chicago next week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Maddox attended the funeral services of Mrs. Maddox's brother in Hopkinsville Monday.

Rev. Amos preached a forcible sermon at C. M. E. church last Sunday night. The Rev. is a strong preacher and deserves much credit, being a self made man, well versed in scripture and a fine speaker.

Mrs. Garfield Osborne, who has had a severe attack of chills, is able to be about the house.

George Gibson, who had his foot mashed by falling slate in the mines is able to be out on crutches.

The torrid weather is trying the souls of many and all should be careful what they eat, for Earlington people are all to fat and it does not take much heat to cause discomfort.

The sisters of Fairest Temple S. M. T. at their last regular meeting, elected "ye editor" as delegate to the S. G. L. at Versailles, Ky., August 11 to 16.

The U. B. T. and S. M. T., of Mortons Gap, have elected Mr. Robert Hall as delegate to represent both lodge and Temple at Versailles, Ky., August 11 to 16.

Miss Katie Johnson, of Morton's Gap, visited Mrs. Jane Morton and family last week.

Mr. Charles Bradley is confined to his bed with fever and has been for some days. We hope that he will soon be out with us again.

The outing of the Baptist Sunday School last Saturday was a grand success. A more progressive Sunday school does not exist in western Kentucky.

Children's day at A. M. E. Zion church Sunday the 29th. A good program is out and the public invited to attend. A grand picnic will be enjoyed by all who attend.

The annual picnic of the C. M. E. church, July 4th, bids fair to be a success with plenty of eatables usually found at such gatherings in abundance. The best of order will be maintained and the entire surrounding country is invited.

We invite news from Hecla but so far no one has brought any and as we are poor at coming we must wait events, scraps and scurrillages, idle gossip and family scandals will find no place in this column.

School teachers are headed for Earlington thick and fast. We are informed the trustees will employ four this year. We here and now hope Prof. Bell and Mrs. Ella Osborne will be retained. Earlington will not be Earlington without them.

Mrs. L. B. Cavanagh, who has been sick since November, was out at church last Sunday. A more welcome personage could not have entered the beautiful little edifice. We all hope she may be able to fully recover her health, as she was seriously missed from her place.

"Your wife," impertinently asks a massage cream advertisement, "is she as fair and fresh as the day you were married?" 12 DIE IN CHICAGO

NEPHEW OF LATE POTTER PALMER ONE OF FIRST STRICKEN

RELIEF COMES LATE IN THE DAY

Death and Prostration Accompanied Torrid Wave Which Sweeps Many Southern Cities.

Chicago, June 24.—Twelve deaths due to heat prostration or allied causes were recorded in Chicago Tuesday. The thermometer again climbed to above 90, but late in the afternoon a shift in the wind brought relief and it is believed that the torrid wave has been broken in this section.

One of the first to succumb Tuesday was Edwin Palmer, a nephew of the late Potter Palmer, and for 19 years secretary of the Chicago Hotel Co.

Heat Claims One in Memphis. Memphis, Tenn., June 24.—Driven desperate because the extreme heat prevented her from getting a much-needed rest, Lottie Jackson drained a bottle of laudanum and died at the city hospital Tuesday. Two prostrations from heat were reported. The thermometer at noon Tuesday registered 88, Monday the highest point reached was 93.

Hottest Day in Washington. Washington, June 24.—This city sweltered Tuesday in the hottest temperatures of the year. At the weather bureau, where it is cooler than in some other sections of the city, the mercury at 4 o'clock stood at 93, while on Pennsylvania avenue unofficial records showed 95. In the government departments thousands of clerks suffered much from the extreme heat.

U. S. Treasurer Overcome. New York, June 24.—United States Treasurer Charles H. Treat was overcome by the heat Tuesday, and as a result will not be able to leave his room for a few days, his physicians say. "Mr. Treat's condition is not serious," said Mrs. Treat Tuesday night. "However, the doctors think it will be best for him to stay in his room for the next few days."

Reaches 97 at Louisville. Louisville, Ky., June 24.—Following three successive days with a maximum temperature of 96, the weather bureau instrument recorded 97, breaking the record for the season. Louis Friend died Tuesday while working in a field. There have been numerous prostrations.

Many Prostrated in Nashville. Nashville, Tenn., June 24.—The thermometer registered 97 degrees here at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Many prostrations have been reported.

Pittsburg Swelters in Heat. Pittsburg, June 24.—Intense suffering and five prostrations, two of which may result fatally, marked the hottest day on record here for two years. The official thermometer registered 94 degrees Tuesday afternoon.

Cleveland Heat Record Broken. Cleveland, June 24.—With the thermometer registered 92 degrees Tuesday afternoon, Cleveland suffered the hottest June day on record since June 21, 1874, when the mark was 86. Mrs. Amelia Schwab dropped dead, a victim of the heat, and prostrations were reported from various parts of the city.

HIGHEST IN 27 YEARS AT OMAHA. Stage of Missouri River at That Point Is 19.2 Feet.

Omaha, June 24.—The Missouri river at Omaha shows the highest stage in 27 years. The stage is officially reported by the weather bureau was 19.2 feet Tuesday morning, but an unofficial reading at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon showed a stage of 19.3 feet and still rising slowly. The weather bureau expected the maximum would be reached several days ago, but continued rains in Minnesota and the Dakotas and in the water shed of the headwaters of the stream have augmented the rising conditions. The first serious damage was done Tuesday, when several farms north of the city and the plant of the National White Lead Co. at East Omaha were partially inundated. No relief is anticipated for 26 hours, and with a continued rise for that length of time conditions will become serious.

Cashier Dead; Accounts Short. Columbus, O., June 24.—Harry Wight, cashier of the People's bank of the East Side, was found dead in an open field in Bullitt Park, a suburb Tuesday, with a bullet hole in his head. Indications pointed to suicide. Wight had been seen at the bank Saturday night when he said he was ill and was going home. Investigation has developed an alleged shortage of about $5,000 in his accounts at the bank. Wight was about 40 years old and married.

Denver Welcomes Civil Engineers. Denver, June 24.—The American Society of Civil Engineers opened its 40th annual convention Tuesday in the senate chamber of the state capitol with nearly 500 of its 4,000 members present. Addresses of welcome were made by Gov. Henry A. Buckner and Mayor Robert W. Speer.

EXPLOSION KILLS THREE

DISASTER IN MINE ENTOMBS FIFTEEN OTHERS.

TWO MORE MAY DIE FROM BURNS

Had Accident Occurred Five Minutes Earlier, 500 Men Would Have Been Entrapped.

Monongahela, Pa., June 21.—Three miners are dead, two others perhaps fatally burned and 15 entombed, many of whom are supposed to be dead from an explosion at the Ellsworth No. 1 mine of the Pittsburgh Coal Co. near here. It is feared the entombed men also are dead. Of the victims taken from the mine, John Beal is the only one identified. The others are foreigners, whose features were too scorched to be recognized. The two burned men were hurried to the hospital here, where it was said they will probably die. Little is known as to the cause of the explosion. It occurred when all but 30 miners working on the day shift had left the workings. Of this number 15 were near the mouth of the slope and rushed out before the force of the explosion reached them. Had the explosion occurred five minutes earlier, the entire force of over 500 men would have been entrapped, with probably many fatalities.

Charles P. Taft and family were on the same train with the sub-committee and all waited the arrival of the Washington train. Escorted by a large number of Cincinnatians bearing Taft banners, the secretary and Mr. Sherman were driven to the residence of Charles P. Taft, where they breakfasted.

A Language Struggle.

G—In the Naples hotel, desiring a fresh towel, rang for a chambermaid and made his request in what he supposed was the language of the country. Meeting a blank face, he tried French and then German, but in vain. A little out of temper, he said: "Why don't you speak English?" "I do, sir," was the reply.—Travel.

BABY BOY HAD ITCHING HUMOR

Which Broke Out in Different Places—Nothing Would Help Him—Mother Almost in Despair—Skin Quickly Healed Without a Scar and Trouble Has Never Returned

SINCE USING CUTICURA MOTHER GIVES IT PRAISE

"Several months ago, my little boy, now two and a half years old, began to break out with itching sores, or began to doctor him, and as soon as I got them healed up in one place they would break out in another. I was almost in despair. I could not get anything that would help him. One evening I read a testimonial from a lady who had cured her little boy with Cuticura. I began to use the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and after using them three times, the sores commenced to heal. He is now well, and not a scar is left on his body. They have never returned nor left him with bad blood, as one would think. Cuticura Remedies are the best I have ever tried, and they are surely great. I shall always have them in the house, handy, and shall highly recommend them to any one who is suffering likewise. I cannot give them too much praise. Mrs. William Geeding, 102 Washington St., Attica, Ind., July 22, 1907."

From little patches of eczema, tetter, milk crust, psoriasis, etc., on the skin, scalp, or hands of infants, children, adults are instantly relieved and speedily cured, in the majority of cases, by warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointing with Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, assisted, when necessary, by mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent. Cuticura Remedies are guaranteed absolutely pure.

WOMAN TO BE ELECTROCUTED.

Mrs. Farmer is Sentenced to Death for Murder.

Watertown, N. Y., June 21.—Guilt of murder in the first degree was the verdict of the jury Friday in the case of Mrs. Mary Farmer, charged with the killing of Mrs. Sarah Brennan. The jury was out three hours. Justice Rogers sentenced Mrs. Farmer to be electrocuted at Auburn prison during the week beginning Aug. 2.

The crime for which Mrs. Farmer, who is 29 years old, was convicted was most heinous. Her victim, Mrs. Brennan, who was 55 years old, was her neighbor and intimate friend and the motive was to gain possession of the Brennan home, deeds of which Mrs. Farmer had forged in October. The crime was committed April 23. Mrs. Brennan was backed to pieces with a hatchet and her body stuffed into a trunk.

Mrs. Farmer's husband is also under indictment on a charge of murder in the first degree as accessory to the crime.

INSIGNIA OF RANK

MARKS THAT TELL THE VARIOUS GRADES IN NAVY.

Some Devices Designed by Martha Washington and Other Colonial Dames—History Written Into Gold Braid.

Boston.—There are very few men who can distinguish an admiral from a lieutenant by the uniforms they wear. There is probably not a single naval demonstration where nine officers out of ten are not confounded by the majority of the spectators.

The same principles underlie the navy insignia as are present in those of the army. There is a picturesque story of the way these came into being. The choosing of the marks of rank in the army and navy, the story runs, was left after the revolution to some of the leading ladies of the country. If legend is to be believed Martha Washington is responsible for some of the devices. The whole world was drawn upon by the resourceful colonial dames for suggestions. The heavenly bodies were appropriately called upon to contribute devices for the highest ranks. From them came the stars, most coveted by men in the army and navy.

Descending to earth the eagle was availed of as most appropriate after the stars, because of its courage and lofty flight. For lesser ranks, all most honorable and awful notwithstanding, the leaves and fruit of the oak tree, noble in proportions and emblematic of strength, were chosen. The anchor, being distinctive of the navy, was used to indicate it especially.

Insignia That Tell Various Grades in Navy.

In all the insignia silver is chosen to rank above the gold, because it usually lies near the surface, and so nearer the heavens.

Anyone versed in the marks of rank in the navy can tell at a glance not only the relative importance of the individual among his fellows, but not infrequently what special work is assigned to them.

"There comes an admiral," says the friendly tar who has ventured to guide you through the navy yard. For the life of you, what makes him an admiral at a glance you cannot tell. From the dignity of his bearing he might be of any exalted rank. His distinguishing mark on the collar is four silver stars with a gold fouled anchor under each of the outer ones. If he were a rear admiral he would wear two silver stars with a silver fouled anchor between them. The signs of rank are worn on the collar except in full dress, when they appear on the shoulder strap.

The captain who meets one on board the ship has no stars on his collar, but a silver spread eagle in the center with a silver fouled anchor on either side. The officer who wears a silver oak leaf on either side of a silver fouled anchor is a commander. The same device in gold indicates a lieutenant commander. Lieutenants are shown by two silver bars on either side of a silver fouled anchor. If they are of the junior grade they wear one bar instead of two. Ensigns wear only the silver fouled anchor. All the above officers are commissioned officers of the line.

There are in addition aboard a ship the commissioned corps officers, the warrant officers and the petty officers.

The same devices that the line officers wear are also worn by the corps officers on their epaulets on the center of their shoulder straps, but the latter wear in addition certain devices to denote their corps department. Officers of the medical corps wear a spread oak leaf in gold, with a silver acorn on it. Officers of the pay corps have a silver oak spray. If a silver eagle is combined with these devices it indicates respectively, medical director and pay director. The engineer corps has been made one with the line officers so that they no longer have any corps device.

Some of the devices of the petty officers are not very intelligible at first sight, and a single device does service to identify several.

Mining

The Mining News in and Around Earlington

Claud Borders, formerly foreman at the Hecla mine, has secured a good position at Zeigler, Ill., at good wages and expects to move his family there soon. We understand he is having his household goods packed now and ready for shipment.

An increased force of mechanics has been at work on the coal crusher this week and if all plans do not fall the new machinery will be set in motion this week, and orders for crushed coal can soon be received and promptly filled and another new industry be added to this enterprising city.

We understand that our former townsmen, Mr. J. B. Lindie, is now in the employ of the electric power plant at Zeigler, Ill., and with the experience he had he will no doubt give satisfaction. This plant is directly connected with the coal mines at that place and is under the supervision of manager Gordon.

The failure to stop the cars soon enough caused them to come in contact with a mule in the Hecla mine last Friday, breaking his leg and so injuring him the animal had to be put out of his misery by being shot. Some claim that it was the slowness of the mule in not stepping off the track, and not the fault of the driver.

James Smith, formerly motorman at the Hecla mine, and now located at Zeigler, Ill., came home after his family last week, expecting to return there soon, where he has a good position along with the other boys who have located there. In fact it begins to look like a Kentucky colony had been started up at Zeigler, as already a large number of Hopkins county persons are located there and all doing well.

Foreman Thos. Blair, of the Hecla mine, for the first time in ten years was stricken with a chill last week and for a time he was a very sick man. The cause is thought to be from wading water in the mine, an exposure he has not been used to of late, and one his friends fear he can not stand. A few years ago he was compelled to give up a good position in the mines on account of ill health.

Manager W. L. Gordon, who a few days ago made friends a brief visit, says that the effects of the money market stringency was not felt at the Zeigler mines, neither had the dull coal business felt at other mines any effect on coal business, as the output has constantly been on the increase. The fact is, that company is fortunate enough through its intimate connection with so many business enterprises which consumes their daily output that the weak pulse in the coal trade is not felt.

One of our former much esteemed citizens W. G. Wright, chief bookkeeper for the Crabtree Coal Co., at Hales, Ky., made relatives here a brief visit lately and while here we learned the fact that during a thunder storm a short time ago a fine horse of his was killed by lightning, and to replace him with another he had to expend $200. Walter don't get to visit Earlington often on account of the mine he is connected with being amply supplied with coal orders that requires the mine to run daily.

The strict enforcement of the new Kentucky law which forbids the employment of children under the age of 14 years of age will work a hardship on many a poor family whose only hope of a support rest on children under that age, and the weak or decrepit miners who now depend on one under that age to assist him during vacation days to earn a livelihood for a large family will be deprived of his help and the bad fruits of such a law will be felt here in Earlington and the work of the juvenile courts and reformatory schools of the state greatly increased, and its repeal should be demanded by the people.

A new law has lately been enacted in Illinois requiring the examination of miners before they are allowed to work in mines of that state, and it is thought that quite a number of those who recently left Hopkins county and other counties of this state may encounter some difficulty in passing a satisfactory examination under the new rules as a practical knowledge of the condition of the mines wherein they intend to work is required, in fact all miners who have worked for less than two years must be examined and while this may for the present time work a hardship on many of the inexperienced ones, the safety of the mines in the future will be enhanced and the decrease of mine accidents whereby thousands of lives are lost will no doubt be the result following the enforcement of this new law.

The clerical department of the St. Bernard Mining Company was a little short on force the past week on account of Rex McEuen being at Hot Springs, Ark., and marriage of J. E. Metherhead who is off on a bridal tour. The absence of these two faithful and efficient clerks leaves the office in a crippled condition, but that ever-ready and willing Miller Evans came to the relief, and business is kept moving.

The dull coal business now can be attributed to several causes, the closing down of many manufacturing plants during the late money panic and their failures thus far to again start up the present hot weather and last, but not least, the great increase in the capacity for the production of coal as can easily be seen when we take a look at the St. Bernard Mining Co.'s mines where new openings are being made, new mines constantly being opened, the addition of improved machinery, such as motor cars, along with a large increase yearly in the number of men hired, all of which tends to facilitate the increased production of coal, and shows conclusively that the sources of supply is destined to be for some time far ahead of the demand.

While his many friends regret to see President J. B. Atkinson, of the St. Bernard Mining Co., leave here for a short time, but they recognize the fact that he is a tired man both mentally and physically, and a good rest is desired that his recuperation may be quick. For months past during all the threatening times he has been the guiding star, carefully weighing every report and watching every move made by the agitators. Always ready to combat any effort they might make to gain an advantage, and his untiring energy and skill in settling serious and difficult problems he deserves the praise of the county and he carries with him to the quiet summer resort the best wishes of a host of friends.

"Unless there be careful husbanding or revolutionizing inventions, or some unforeseen industrial revolution, the greater part of our original heritage of coal will be gone before the end of the next century."

"Estimated original supply in the United States, 2,500,000,000 tons.

Actual consumption to date, 7,500,000,000 tons.

Waste and destruction to date, 9,000,000,000 tons.

Production in 1907, 450,000,000 tons.

Production in 1907 (at present rate of increase) 900,000,000 tons.

Production in 1927 (at present rate of increase) 1,800,000,000 tons.

Production in 1937, 8,500,000,000 tons.

"Of all the coal burned in the power plants not more than 5 to 10 per cent of the potential energy is actually used. The remainder is absorbed in rendering the smaller fraction available in actual work. In ordinary electric lights hardly one-fifth of 1 per cent—one five-hundredth part—of the energy of the coal is actually utilized."—From Mr. Carnegie's Address, Washington, D. C., May 13, 1908.

*Includes production of Nebraska and Nevada.

Practically complete returns to Mr. Edward W. Parker, statistician in charge of the division of mineral resources, United States Geological Survey, show that the production of coal in the United States during 1908 not only far exceeded any previous records in the history of the industry, but also exceeded by a considerable amount all previous estimates of the total output for that year.

The aggregate production of anthracite and bituminous coal in 1907 amounted to 480,450,042 short tons, valued at $614,831,549, against 414,167,278 short tons, valued at $513,070,808 in 1906. The increase in production in 1907 over 1906 was 66,282,764 short tons, or 16.01 per cent. in quantity, and $101,761,740 or 19.81 per cent. in value.

If one feels dull and spiritless, in the spring or early summer, they call it Spring fever—usually. It is the after effect of our winter habits. The nerves are mostly at fault. Tired, worn-out nerves leave us languid, lifeless, and without spirit or ambition. A few doses of Dr. Shoop's Restorative will absolutely and quickly change all of these depressing symptoms. The restorative of course won't bring you back to full health in a day or two, but it will do enough in 48 hours to satisfy you that the remedy is reaching that "tired spot." Druggists everywhere are advising its use as a splendid and prompt general tonic. It gives more vim and more spirit to the spoonful than any other known nerve or constitutional tonic. It sharpens a failing appetite, aids digestion, frees sluggish livers and kidneys, and brings new life, strength and ambition. Test it a few days and be convinced.

Bucklen's Arnica Sale Wins

Tom Moore, of Rural Route 1, Cochran, Ga., writes: "I had a bad sore come on the instep of my foot and could find nothing that would heal it until I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Less than half of a 25 cent box won the day for me by afflicting a perfect cure." Sold under guarantee at all leading drug stores.

Secrets of Popularity.

Two secrets of popularity are keep a cheerful courage burning and say nothing but pleasant things about people or say nothing at all.

Stimulation Without Irritation.

In case of stomach and liver trouble the proper treatment is to stimulate these organs without irritating them. Orin's Laxative Fruit Syrup aids digestion and stimulates the liver and bowels without irritating these organs like pills or ordinary cathartics. It does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take.

"Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee Imitation ever yet produced. This clever Coffee Substitute was recently produced by Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wis. Not a grain of real Coffee in it either. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee is made from pure roasted grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—who might drink it for Coffee. No 20 or 30 minutes tedious boiling. People who know how to take care of themselves—the majority do not. The liver is a most important organ in the body. Herbine will keep it in condition. V. C. It is as good for children as it is for grown-up people, and I recommend it. It is fine for La Grippe."

COLORADO'S FIRST CAPITOL.
Old Log Cabin at Colorado City, Now a Chinese Laundry.

Colorado Springs, Col.—Diagonally across from Rm Row, on Colorado avenue, Colorado City, stands the log cabin which served as the first territorial capitol when Colorado City was made the capital of the territory in 1881. The building, however, was used for this purpose but five days. The lawmakers decided that the accommodations were inadequate, and adjourned to meet in Denver. Just what accommodations the new capitol was "shy" of is not recorded, but it could not have been that seemingly necessary adjunct to law making—whisky. For it is a historical fact that the city at the entrance to the First Territorial Capitol of Colorado.

Pass at the base of Pike's Peak has always carried an ample supply of undertaker's delight since it was founded in August, 1859. The drink emporiums have been one of the features of the city, and one entire block on Colorado avenue is given over to these joints and signs of "The Tenderfoot," "Black Tail," "Antelope," "The Nugget," "Red Top Boots" and "Elk's Horn" greet the eye.

The abandoned capitol was used for a short time as a drug store, then as a dwelling for prospectors who hoped to make a discovery on the South Platte river, and finally the building was rented to a son of the Flowery Kingdom, Sam Wah, who has since conducted a laundry within its historic walls. Sam Wah and two kinsmen are the only Chinamen engaged in the wash business in the city, and they must be accumulating a goodly bank account, for they pay $20 monthly rental for the former capitol. The rent for a year is a great deal more than the building is worth, but its owner wants $6,000 for the old logs and the weather boarded front, as there are men who wish to buy it for the purpose of removing it to Denver, where it would doubtless prove a drawing card as a historic curiosity.

FATHER OF LIBERTY BILL.

poorer classes and has seen the want and suffering that is often brought upon the family of a workman through his being incapacitated by an accident. Sterling was born on a farm and educated himself by his own efforts. After his graduation he was superintendent of public schools in Lexington for two years, after which he took up the practice of law. He was state's attorney for McLean county for four years and is now serving his third term in congress.

Appearances Sometimes Tell.

Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson stood near the entrance to the Brooklyn bridge while the homeward bounders were engaged in their daily fight for car-room. Dr. Watson was engaged, as usual, doing nothing and admiring Sherlock the while. Since he could neither play the fiddle nor use morphine Sherlock was forced to fall back on his old pastime of deduction. "Watson," he remarked, apropos of nothing in particular, "there is a young lady who is going to call on a young lady, one whom he would probably call his 'best girl.'"

"How do you know that?" Inquired Watson's never-failing "feeder."

"Because he has two boxes of chocolate under his arm and a bouquet rather badly done up in his right hand."

"Marvelous, marvelous," whispered Watson. "Let us, my dear Holmes, refresh ourselves." And they disappeared between the swinging ladies of a neighboring coach.

Hogs as Camp Scavengers.
